ACTIVATION CEREMONY IS SET FOR NEXT WEEK

The local unit of the National Guard was a step nearer organization Tuesday evening when a number of applications for enlistment in Batry. C, 239th FA Bn. were made at a meeting held in the old Grammar School building here.

This followed quickly after Capt. Rudolph Michlaka, Commanding Officer of the battery, had received authorization from National Guard headquarters in Austin to activate the unit at once.

The swearing-in ceremonies for the first group of men is tentatively scheduled for next week. A request for Federal recognition will be made shortly.

Although the first goal of twenty-five per cent enlistment is well in sight, Capt. Michalka pointed out that the battery's full strength is 4 officers and 75 enlisted men; and there is, therefore, still a number of openings, some of them with good ratings. He particularly called attention to the one of caretaker (supply sergeant) of the unit, which has not yet been filled. This a full-time, 40 hour a week job, requiring some mechanical and unit supply experience, and pays $2190 a year—which, in addition to the Guardsman pay, amounts to approximately $200 a month.

Capt. Michalka said he will be glad to interview anyone interested in this or any other opening in the battery, and he can be reached during business hours at the Cameron Machine Shop.

Telephone Exchange Doing Well Handling Necessary Calls

Southwestern Bell Telephone Exchange in Cameron was doing a good job here this week handling necessary calls over its switch boards.

The people are beginning to cooperate in a splendid manner and are not using their telephones except in cases of absolute necessity and a bare minimum of needs to transact local business.

Officials and institutional employes are working hard and are giving the subscribers an excellent service under the circumstances. The exchange can be operated indefinitely on the present basis if the people will cooperate and they are doing just that.

It is thought there would be no reccurence of wilful misuse of telephone privileges under present conditions. A flurry of inspired useless telephoning, after a brief few hours, subsided and it is hoped the people may fully recognize the apparent run on the switch boards to discourage those faithful employes who did not walk out.

Milam Last County In Texas To Get 1947 Car Numbers

Owners of motor vehicles in Milam county can now get their license plates.

The plates were delivered here last week and Milam is the last county in Texas to get the plates. Stickers were issued at the offices of Valter White, tax collector when no plates were issued to the county.

LeRoy Massengale, chief clerk at the office of the collector said that car and truck owners should bring their registration certificates when calling for their plates.

Officials of the Community Public Service Company from the Fort Worth area, were in Cameron at 1:30 a. m. Thursday to pick up testing chemicals from the local supply, it was announced by L. W. Smith, local manager.

Mr. Smith said that three officials, including Richard Hester, former manager here, were on their way to the stricken city.

Many people here were awakened by the sound and windows in their homes ratling accompanied by a rocking of the homes.

Mr. Graves was born in Milam county, in the Sharp comunity 74 years ago. He had been a resident of Cameron for about 25 years and at one time he was a Deputy Sheriff. Later he was Secretary for the Cameron Farm Loan Association with offices in the Henderson Building. When his health failed he retired and had been under treatment at times in hospitals in Dallas.

Mr. Graves had been confined to his home for the past few weeks, his condition showing little improvement.

One son, Preston Graves., Jr., predeed his in death. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Preston S. Graves, and one son, Fredrick Graves of Dallas. One brother, Rufus Graves of Sharpe and one sister, Mrs. T. S. Barclay of Rockdale. Two grand children also survive.

DICK BAGGETT GIVEN A YEAR IN JAIL HERE

Dick Baggett of Milano entered a plea of guilt in County Court here Monday and was sentenced to a year in jail by Judge Dan Tyson.

Baggett was facing charges for driving a car while drunk and for assault with an automobile in connection with a crash on Highway 36 east of the city in which Mrs. Dorothy Bain Vaughan, his companion, was killed and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Frances of Killeen, were severely injured.

Baggett entered plea of guilt to driving while intoxicated which is still a misdemeanor under the law and for assault with a car in connection with the injury of Mrs. Frances.

No indictment was returned by the grand jury in connection with the death of Mrs. Bain. The accident occured on October 4, 1946.

County Attorney Bill Morrison had asked for the case to be set down for trial on April 21 when he had disposed of the Andrews case two weeks ago.

Baggett received one year in each case but will be allowed to serve them concurrently.

Penalties for drunk driving are becoming more severe in an encouraging tightening up of law enforcement in this county.

2 DEAD BLAST

GAS COMPANY IS EXPANDING

SCHOOL CENSUS LOSS?

WOHLEB AND ABEL NOT YET ACCOUNTED FOR

Clem Wohleb and Louis Abel of Cameron are believed to have lost their lives in the Texas City disaster on Wednesday last.

An extensive inquiry, coupled with days of search by relatives, has failed to develop any information and the discouraging news has led to the belief that both perished.

A report that Clem Wohleb had been taken to a hospital in Galveston was apparently eroneous. This report was published by The Herald. Based upon the report the Abel family of Buckholts tried in vain to contact Wohleb who was working with Louis Abel at the time of the explosion.

Mrs. Abel lives in Cameron and has had no word from her husband or any information that would indicate what happened to him.

Jack Garth Cammer was killed and it is believed certain that the number of persons lost from Cameron are three and possibly more .

As yet not all bodies have been recovered. Many were not identifiable and many more may never be seen again.

Barney McCoy, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hillyer of Cameron, is unreported. Mr. Hillyer told The Herald late Tuesday that the family had searched every hospital in the area and without results. McCoy is now believed to be dead. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy are the parents of 4 children and were living in Galveston at the time of the disaster.

JACK CAMMER IS TEXAS CITY DISASTER VICTIM

One of the bodies taken from the plant of the Monsanto Chemical Company late Friday, April 18 was that of Jack Garth Cammer, 28 year old son of John Cammer, both former residents here.

A message to relatives here Friday told of the recovery of Cammer's body and he was employed by a rubber plant in that city which is the Monsanto Chemical Company.

Rescue workers estimated early Saturday that the building, blasted by the ship explosion and blackened by fire, would yield up 100 bodies.

Jack Garth Cammer is the first fatality reported to The Herald, and fear is expressed there may be others because dozens of people from this area live in Texas City. Some have been reported safe but others have not been heard from.

Jack Garth Cammer is the son of John Crammer, manager for the Hutchins & Sealey cotton concentration warves in Galveston. His son had been employed for some time with the chemical plant in Texas City.

Cammer was reared in Cameron, attending school here when a student and played on the football team. He was largely reared by Mrs. Cora Cammer, his grandmother. He was called "Little Jack" Cammer because an uncle, Jack Cammer of the Cammer Tailor Shop, lives here. Other uncles of the dead son here are Jeff Cammer and Elwood Cammer.

The father of "Little Jack" was reared here. He has been away for many years and like his brother, Elwood, is in the cotton business.

It was presumed here that the body would be taken to the home in Galveston.

Clem Wohleb, reported missing, has been found in a Galveston Hospital, it was reported to The Herald Saturday morning.

So far as known there has been no word from Louis Abel, reported missing by Mrs. Abel who lives in Cameron.

Printing is a home industry.

CAMERON EXTENSIONS TO BE MADE SOON

Lone Star Gas Company anticipates expenditure of more than $9,500,000 for extensions and additions to physical properties this year to meet growing requirements for service, President D. A. Hulcy has announced. This amount has been budgeted for construction and equipment over the gas system comprising 321 towns and cities, one of which is Cameron.

Anticipated expenditures for additions during 1947 will top expenditures for similar purposes during last year by about $500,000, Mr. Hulcy said. Some of the projects already are under way, while others will be started when materials are available.

Following are the principal expenditures: service lines, street mains, meters, regulators and other facilities for serving customers, $3,279,513; acquiring leases and drilling wells to insure adequate gas supply for many years, $2,560,230; pipe line construction from and in gas fields to tap additional reserves and to provide additional transmission capacity, $1,732,100; dehydration, cycling and gasoline plants to treat gas and promote conservation, $1,071,650; supplementing existing facilities, such as automotive equipment and machinery and tools and building improvements, $986,105.

Healthy growth of Lone Star's territory is indicated by the fact that the company added more than 23,000 customers during the past year. Total operating expenses increased by $1,132,019 in 1946 over the previous year. The tax bill was $6,486,087 and represented approximately $1.50 out of every customer bill rendered each month.

Mr. Hulcy's announcement also reflects the company's program of natural gas conservation and development to reserves to meet additional fuel requirements.

73 LESS STUDENTS IN WHITE SCHOOLS HERE

Cameron has shown a loss of 73 students in the white schools of the city as compared with the census last year, it was revealed here Wednesday.

Miss Dallie Young, member of the school faculty, and census enumerator, has just completed her work.

School authorities were very anxious to have the utmost co-operation from school patrons of the district in the hope that there may be some who were out of the city at the time the census was made and were not listed. They appeal to you to check and see if you have been properly accounted for on the rolls.

If the figures are not increased the school treasury will lose $4,015 because the $55 per capita law goes into effect in September.

It was pointed out that some parents may have not been informed as to proceedings, especially those who have children to enter school for the first time this year.

If there are any who have not been enumerated, please see Miss Young, W. T. Hanes or Chas. M. Hicks, county superintendent, at once.

Under the new per capita law the sum of $55 is paid for each student on the rolls. It is highly important that a complete survey be made.

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT BUYS DENISON OUTPUT

The Southwestern Power Administration and the Texas Power & Light Company today anounced that they had signed a 20-year contract through which approximately half the electric power from the Government's hydro-electric plant at the Denison Dam project will be distributed and sold.

The agreement, which must be submitted to the Federal Power Commission for final confirmation and approval of rates, is the result of many months of thorough study and negotiation between the Texas Power & Light Company and the Government Agency, and is designed to provide a vehicle for the most widespread distribution and sale of power from the Denison Dam at the lowest possible rate to the ultimate consumer consistent with sound business principles. The agreement recognizes the preference requirements of the Flood Control Act, and public bodies and REA cooperatives will have first call upon the energy as distributed under the agreement.

The agreement has several features which are unique in contracts between federal agencies producing power and private utilities in the area of such production.

Under the agreement the power and energy is immediately fed into the system of the Texas Power & Light Company and until electric energy is withdrawn from the system of the Company for the service of the Government's customers, payments are made by the Company to the Government in accordance with appropriate rate schedules. Allowance is made to the Company of capacity under the agreement in return for the Company's furnishing the necessary electric energy out of its system for service to the Government's customers.

The agreement gives the Government the right, upon 30 days written notice, to serve its customers, including public bodies and REA cooperatives, from the Company's transmission line system to the extent of the power capacity available from the Denison Dam Project as integrated with the generation of the Company, and the Company will turn over any or all of its REA and federal loads to the government if such customers desire service from the Government. The 5000 kilowatt block of power at present allocated to Oklahoma will remain the same until the second unit is installed at the Denison Dam, and transmision facilities for service to Oklahoma are completed. After that time, it is proposed that half the capacity of the project will be used for service in Texas and the other half of the capacity for service in Oklahoma. It is estimated that the Denison Dam Project under independent operation would be able to serve a load of approximately 40,000 kilowatts at a 50 per cent load factor. By virtue of the integration secured under this agreement the Denison Dam Project will be able to serve up to 50,000 kilowatts of load at any load factor and the Company in turn will secure the advantage of poaking capacity available from the hydro plant.

The agreement is particularly significant in that both the Government and the Company will secure the maximum utilization of their facilities for their mutual benefits as well as carry out the purposes of the Flood Control Act of December 22, 1944. The agreement is also significant in that it represents a working out of the differences between public and private power operations to the mutual advantage of both.

In commenting on the agreement, Douglas G. Wright, Administrator of the Southwestern Power Administration, said: "In my judgment this agreement represents one of most important steps ever taken in the distribution and marketing of power by a federal agency. The Texas Power & Light Company and the Southwestern Power Administration through months of negotiations around the table, with fair and reasonable consideration of the rights of each other, have reached an agreement which, through its mutual benefits, will enable both the Company and the Government to bring to their ultimate power consumers the benefits resulting from integrated operations. If transmission lines were constructed to distribute power from the Denison Dam in the Texas area, the lines that could be justified for construction would cover less than one-third of the market area made available to the Government under the arrangements made with the Company. The capacity of the Denison Dam that can be used for power service is increased through the integration of the hypro output with the fuel burning generation of the Company and in turn the Company will have the advantage of the hydro capacity for peaking purposes. This integration, together with that secured by interconnecting the hydro projects together with the heavy transmission line tie, makes possible complete utilization of all the hydro electric capacity at all government dams. It is to be hoped that similar arrangements can be effected through out the Southwest with other utility companies, thus solving, to the benefit of the ultimate power consumer, the power controversy that has been raging in the area for several years."

Mr. W. W. Lynch, Vice President of the Texas Power & Light Company, who participated in the negotiations on behalf of the Company, said in commenting on the contract: "The negotiations with the Southwestern Power Administration have been very pleasant. Mr. Wright and his associates have indicated a realistic approach to the problems involved, and it is anticipated that operations under this agreement will be on the same amiable basis as that under which the agreement was negotiated."

"As Homelike As a Barn"

Cy Hartman finally got his new barn painted, but plenty of folks had a hand in it. Whenever someone got a free day, or a little extra time, they'd come over and help out with paint and brush.

And Cy, to show his appreciation, held a big "barn warming" Saturday—for all the folks who'd helped him (but not barring those who couldn't). Ma Hartman supplied sandwiches, and Cy rolled out a mellow keg of beer.

You'd never think of a barn as "homelike." But with those lanterns hanging from the rafters; makeshift tables spread heavy with food; and Ed Carey's fiddle playing while the folks enjoyed their beer—Cy's barn was sure a mighty hospitable-looking place!

From where I sit, it's just about as appropriate to have a barn warming as a housewarming . . . if only because it's another chance to get neighbors together in a spirit of good fellowship.

WAGES AND THE TELEPHONE STRIKE

Because wages are at issue in the telephone strike, let's take a look at what operators and plant craftsmen here are now getting. Almost all telephone people are in these groups.

The basic work period is a five-day, 40-hour week. Scheduled employees are paid overtime for time worked over eight hours a day, premium time for Sunday and holiday work, and added money for evening and night work.

OPERATORS

A girl just out of high school, with no previous experience, starts at the beginner's rate of $26 a week. But if she works after 9 p.m., she gets $27.50 a week, and if that week includes Sunday work, she gets $30.10.

The beginning operator gets a raise in pay every six months for the first year. An operator with 12 month's experience, for example, gets $28 for a normal 40-hour week. If it includes evenings and Sunday, she earns $32.30.

Periodic increases bring the operator to the top rate of $34 a week. If she works evenings and Sundays, her weekly earnings are $38.90.

But the union wants to increase the beginner's rate of pay from $26 to $41—up $15 a week. Also, they would increase the top wages from $34 to $51. That is an increase of $17 a week.

PLANT CRAFTSMEN

Linemen and installers, starting in right out of school with no experience, begin at $28 for a basic five-day week. In two years they are earning $35.50 a week. Periodic increases raise this bas. ate to a top of $56 a week. Exchange repairmen—the men who take care of repairing the equipment in your office or home—reach a top rate of $58. Overtime and other extra pay during the past year increased the wages of most linemen, installers, and exchange repairmen by about 10 per cent.

The union asks that the beginning wage rates of these Plant workers be raised from $28 to $43—up $15 a week. The union would also increase the $56 top wage to $78, and the $58 top to $78. Those would be increases of $20 and $22 a week.

We believe most people will agree that present wages are good. The company believes that no increases are justified at this time.

The way to resolve these differences of opinion and settle the strike is to arbitrate the wage issue. That would be fair to our employees, to telephone users, and to the company.

Nearly three weeks ago the company proposed that Governor Jester and the governors of the other four states in which we operate appoint a panel of five impartial citizens—men with a knowledge of conditions in this area—to arbitrate the wage issue. The company enlarged its offer to include not only basic wages but such other demands as length of time for employees to reach top wage rates and wage differentials between different communities.

The company urges union officials to reconsider the offer of arbitration. It is the fair way to settle the strike, restore full telephone service to the public, and get the telephone wage issue decided equitably.

Antelope Horn Is Found on River By John W. Hairston

An antelope horn, believed to be the first one ever seen in this area, was brought in Thursday by John W. Hairston.

The horn was found near The Shoals and near a spring and was protruding from the bank. It appears to be fossilized. If authentic, it is the right horn.

The Antelope is now extinct except in portions of the west but in pre-hitoric and even medevial times the little animal was here in great numbers.

Mr. Hairston is old along the river and has seen much of the archaeology of this region.

Mrs. J. B. White has returned from Texas City where she spent the week end with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Windham.

JESTER QUESTIONS THE BILLS PASSED TO HIM

AUSTIN—Gov. Beauford H. Jester will go on the air before the end of the week to announce whether or not he will sign the $55 per capita and $2,000 minimum teachers pay bills, he said today.

At his press conference, the governor reiterated his proviously expressed belief that the measures were "not a proper solution," but he would give no definite indication of what his action might be.

He said he was glad to see that the house had adopted a resolution calling for a long-range study of the state's needs in public education, adding he hoped the senate would concur in it.

"I hope the senate will act quickly and favorably," Jester said.

The executive committee of the state teachers association, which backed the per capita and minimum pay bills, called on Jester Saturday to urge him to approve the measures, the governor said.

"I told them of the proposed long-range study of the state's educational needs, and that I hoped such inquiry would develop a proper solution to the problem," Jester said.

Jester has advocated increased local support rather than increased state support as a means of raising teachers pay. He publicly favored a bill by Sen. Jim Taylor of Kerens, putting state aid on the basis of need, but Taylor himself voted for the per capita method after he said he saw it was obvious the legislature would not follow his solution.

Taylor is generally regarded as the administration's leader in the senate.

Jester said he would broadcast his decision on a statewide radio hook-up some time before April 19. He indicated this might be Thursday

NEW YEAR COUNCIL AT CITY HALL ORGANIZED

The new city council in session Tuesday night made some progress on small details of organization when Mayor A. W. McCullin named the committees for the new year.

The fiscal year of the city begins in April. It was the regular meeting. John C. Andres, new member of the Board of Aldermen took the oath along with Bob Terry and August Horstmann, old itmers on the body.

The city is toying with the idea now of calling a bond election and a number of bond buyers were on hand. No action was taken with reference to the matter of issuing bonds.

The council defered action on an election pending the sounding of public sentiment and Mayor McCullin has called a town hall gathering for Friday night on the court house lawn at 7:30 to discuss his plans for a bond issue for street paving and renovating the old grammar school to be used for a city hall.

A busy spring is in prospect for the government. One of the important developments now is sanitation and now that materials are becoming available some progress has been made.

The council voted to make a contract with Bob Terry, Jr., and E. E. Geer to operate the municipal swimming pool in Wilson-Ledbetter park this summer.

The Cameron Herald was designated official organ for the new fiscal year. Cameron newspapers alternate in handling the city's business.

J. Y. HOUSTON REPORTS ON TEXAS CITY BLAST

J. Y. Houston of Cameron, who has been employed as a guard at government property in Texas City, recalled some of his experiences during the explosion and resulting fire there Wednesday morning.

Mr. Houston was on duty at a nearby government property and was within 150 yards of the French ship, Grand Champ, when she blew up.

He was thrown into a sand pit from a cat walk on his beat and was saved. He was wearing a Sam Brown Belt and a 38 callibre revolver and they are mising. "I have no idea what happened to them," said Houston.

"When the ship exploded," he said, "the chemical plant went up and I was knocked down again. There were a series of explosions and each time I was knocked down. Finally I made my way out and ran across my brother, E. H., in fact we collided at the gate. As I looked up I could see the sky was filled with wreckage of the ship and the chemical plant. A piece of steel some 18 inches in circumference was blown through my brothers home a mile and a half away from the explosion," he said.

Houston came to Cameron Wednesday night. He said he saw at least 400 bodies and that some 250 bodies are still in the explosion and flame area and not yet recovered.

THIRD SHIP SINKS AS DEATH TOLL MOUNTS

Fires raging in Texas City since 9:15 a. m. Wednesday when a nitrate ship set off a major disaster on the coast city's docks, were brought under control late Thursday, it was reported early Friday.

Another ship the Wilson B. Keene, loaded with wheat sank in the harbor after it had been damaged and abandoned by her crew. The hulk of the ship was discovered from the air by recognizance planes.

When the High Flyer blew up Thursday morning the explosion damaged the Keene.

Reports at noon Friday said that it appeared a matter of hours until the flames along the water front and refinery areas would be extinguished.

The death toll was mounting. It was estimated early Friday that the dead would reach 1000 ,as more bodies were dug from the ruins of the city and reports of fatalities came from nearby Galveston and Houston hospitals.

The stricken city lpans a memorial service Saturday for the victims of the explosions. It will be one of the

The stricken city plans a memorial history of Texas.

Hundreds of the dead will be taken to homes in the interior of the state. Many of the dead will never be identified.

GI HOUSING DEBACLE NEW NATIONAL SHAME

Desperate war veterans are being swindled when they buy dwellings being thrown together otday by a repacious building industry concerned only with profits, Elizabeth Gordon, editor of House Beautiful, declares in the May issue of the magazine.

Instead of providing America with modern homes which could be enjoyed in comfort and with pride, the building industry is giving war veterans houses which will cause "the sickening realization a few years hence that they have mortgaged their incomes for houses which are ten to thirty years out of date—both in plans and materials," she declares.

"Never again in our lifetime shall we see such a building boom as we are witnessing today," Miss Gordon asserts. "By 1948, according to all available statistics, at least a million new homes will have been constructed throughout the United States.

"What a God-given opportunity this is to change the face of a nation, to beautify its reisdences, to incorporate into the peaceful channels of housing all the scientific and industrial wizardy of war. What a chance to produce for a million American families modern, pleasing, up-to-date homes, which can be lived in with comfort and enjoy with pride!

"But are we doing that? Are we taking advantage of this moment? Are the builders, the planers, the real estate men getting together and creating such thoroughly livable homes?

"The answer is a tragic No. Reactionary, obstinate, restrictive, frightened of change, unimaginative, profit-bent only, the building industry is turning out thousands of cracker boxes for thousands of veterans and non-veterans, all desperate and house-ignorant, clamoring solely for a roof over their heads, unmindful of their fearful destiny; the sickening realization a few years hence that they have mortgaged their incomes for houses which are ten to thirty years out of date—both in plan and materials."

Estelle Kieschnick Is Married to Willie Haug On Easter Sunday

Miss Estelle Kieschnick, became the bride of Willie A. Haug on Easter Sunday, April 6, 1947, at five o'clock in the evening. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Neumann of Bishop, Texas, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The bride, given in marriage wore a white satin wedding gown fashioned with a long train, and a finger-tip veil of illusion. She wore three strands of pearls given her by the groom.

Miss Helen Kieschnick, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and Misses Margaret Kieschnick, cousin and Ruby Lee Haug, sister of the groom were brides maids. They were gowned in pastel taffeta dresses with matching colonial boquets.

Otto Haug served his brother as best man, and Louis Kieschnick, brother of the bride and Lee Roy Krueger were groomsmen. The two tiny flower girls dressed in white floor length dresses were cousins of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kieschnick, who died in 1942-1943. She is the grand daughter of Mrs. Wm. Senkel, who wore a navy blue dress with a white carnation corsage. SENATE VOTES AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY

WASHINGTON — The senate stamped approval, 67 to 23, today on a momentous new departure in U. S. foreign policy by voting a $400,000,000 fund to stiffen Greece and Turkey against Communism.

The bill, which provides financial and limited military assistance to these two strategic nations, now goes to the house, where the foreign affairs committee has approved a similar measure.

Before the senate vote, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) sought in vain to strike out a provision that President Truman may send military missions to Greece and Turkey to instruct their armies in the use of military equipment to be furnished. The vote against him was 68 to 22.

On the roll call vote on Greek aid, Senator Tom Connally of Texas voted for it and Senator O'Daniel against.

Led by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) the GOP-controlled senate bowled over vocal but numerically weak opposition to the new policy laid down by President Truman in a March 12 address to congress.

On final passage 35 Republicans and 32 Democrats voted for the measure, 16 Republicans and seven Democrats opposed it.

Through five hours of torrid debate before voting began on amendments late in the afternoon, opponents assailed the Truman plan as one which would "destroy" the United Nations, invite retaliation by Russia and roll up tremendous expenditures which might bankrupt this nation.

Replying, Vandenberg told his colleagues that if congress fails to act "aggression gets the green light and the rest of the world, including America, gets the red light."
